Welcome to the ANA in New York City

Jackson C. Storm

FROM YOUR CONVENTION CHAIRMAN

Welcome to the Big Apple, one of the most exciting places in the world. It is fitting that the 85th Anniversary Convention of the American Numismatic Association should be held here in view of the city's historical role in the founding of our nation. Here, the Constitution was approved by Congress, and at Federal Hall in lower Manhattan, Washington took his first oath of office as president. New York is a virtual museum of events associated with the Bicentennial.

We are also the home of more than 50 museums, the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Radio City, the Empire State Building, the World Trade Center's 110 story twin-towers, Wall Street (financial center of the world), the Garment District, Madison Avenue (advertising capital of the world), and a hundred neighborhoods all with a character of their own that have hosted two World Fairs in 1939-40 and 1964-65. We also host professional baseball, football, basketball, hockey and tennis teams: The New York Yankees, Mets, Jets, Giants, Knicks, Nets, Rangers, Islanders and Sets.

New York City is also the home of the United Nations, a beautiful harbor where the Statue of Liberty has stood since 1886 and Ellis Island, the greatest immigration center in history, which is now the site of a new museum commemorating the portal where so many naturalized Americans first saw their adopted land.

One of the world's great museums, the American Numismatic Society, is found at 155th Street & Broadway in New York. A special Bicentennial coin and currency exhibit will be on display there throughout this year. (One of our many convention trips is to the ANS).

Five major coin conventions are held in New York City each year, and not without good reason. This year, it will be topped with the largest ANA convention ever held – with the most extensive bourse and exhibit area in history, and with highest attendance recorded at any coin convention.

New York can cater to your every wish, be it cultural, theatrical, financial or just good eating. New York City is indeed the Big Apple.

Come to New York, share in the fun and the history – and take a bite of one of the most rewarding experiences in coin collecting: a convention of the American Numismatic Association.

Cordially,

Jackson C. Storm
General Chairman

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

Home and headquarters of the American Numismatic Association on the campus of Colorado College in Colorado Springs. Founded in 1891, the ANA is the largest educational, non-profit organization of collectors of coins, tokens, medals and paper money in the world.

Chartered by Congress, the ANA welcomes to membership persons 11 years of age and over who have a sincere interest in numismatics. More than 32,000 individuals and clubs, representing every state in the Union and most countries in the world are members.

Membership advantages in the ANA are many and varied. The Numismatist, an illustrated monthly magazine devoted to news of Association activities, and the coin hobby in general, and containing articles on specific numismatic items, advertisements of member dealers and miscellaneous items of hobby interest, is sent to all but associate members. The magazine averages more than 240 pages per issue. Other regular publications include The Young Numismatist for junior members, and the Club Bulletin for member clubs. From the ANA's modern building in downtown Colorado Springs, which houses administrative and editorial offices as well as library facilities and a museum, members may borrow books (in person or by mail) from the world's largest circulating numismatic library. Those members visiting Colorado Springs are always welcome to visit the library and the extensive new museum displays.

Also operated by the ANA is a certification service, headquartered in Washington, D.C., where members and non-members alike may submit numismatic items for a determination of authenticity. Charges for the service depend upon an item's declared valuation, with members enjoying a discount advantage, and all items certified as genuine are issued a special certificate attesting to the fact.

Members are also eligible for special group insurance for their collections and for hospitalization and life insurance coverage for themselves and their families at lower rates than for comparable individual policies. Special insurance is also available to clubs, dealers and exhibitors.

Each July, a "Seminar in the Sun" is held at ANA headquarters for members interested in certain educational aspects of collecting. Reasonable rates, including lodging and meals, are a fixed feature. Scholarships to the summer seminar for selected young numismatists have also been a regular feature in recent years.

Annual dues of regular members are $12, and juniors, $9. An admittance fee of $5 is payable with regular membership applications, but is waived in the case of juniors 11 to 18 years of age. Life Membership is also available for $350 in one payment, or in installments over a one year period.

For further information about the Association, including an application for membership, contact the ANA Executive Vice President, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

To you, the "beginner" collector . . . to you, the "advanced" collector . . . to you, the professional numismatist, . . . to you, the member of the press and tee-vee . . . and to all you who will be attending your first ANA convention . . . a most hearty welcome!

Those who claim to have a crystal ball in good working order, I'm told, prophesy that this, ANA's 85th anniversary convention, will break all previous attendance records.

One feature which is a "must" for all ANA Members will be the ANA Membership "Old Time Town Meeting" . . . on Wednesday, August 25, at 11:00 A.M. in the room "Royal-A."

It'll be a "no-holds-barred" meeting with, I hope, wall-to-wall Members.

Questions may be asked . . . hopefully answered frankly and satisfactorily.

Motions may be made from the floor, and put to a vote then and there.

So, everybody come . . . and take advantage of this unusual chance to make your voice heard!

Sincerely,

Virgil Hancock

P.S...Oh, yes ! There'll be plenty of silver door prizes !

NEW YORK CITY
1626 – 1976

THE BIG APPLE, site of this year's 85th Anniversary Convention of the American Numismatic Association, bids you welcome. New York is a summer festival that offers ANA members and their families a host of things to see and do – when the hectic convention schedule permits.

Home of more than 50 major museums, ranging from the American Numismatic Society (at 155th Street & Broadway) to the Whitney Museum of American Art (Madison Avenue at 75th St.) and the Museum of Natural History, the Hayden Planetarium, and Metropolitan Museum of Art in between, New York is a cultural mecca that has been attracting visitors for more than 200 years.

Manhattan Island, the hub around which the other four boroughs of the City of New York are based, was discovered by Verrazano in 1524. Nearly a hundred years went by before explorer Henry Hudson, travelling up the river that still bears his name, claimed the land for the Dutch.

Not until 1625 was the first permanent settlement established at the foot of Manhattan Island. Called Nieuw Amsterdam, it was "purchased" from the indigenous Indian inhabitants in 1626 by Dutch governor Peter Minuit for the equivalent of $24, making 1976 the 350th anniversary of the City.

Wall Street, today the symbol of the Western financial world, is located in old New Amsterdam, at the former site of a wall of thick wooden planks that protected settlers from the Indians who lived in the wilds of what is now the ANA convention site – the Americana Hotel at 7th Avenue and 53rd Street.

By 1664, trade was flourishing, and so was rivalry between the Dutch and English. Peter Stuyvesant, the dictatorial governor of the Dutch colony, grew more and more unpopular with the community, and when the English sailed up the Hudson River that year, they were able to take over New Amsterdam without firing a single shot.

Re-named New York after the Duke of York, brother of King Charles II of England, the city continued to grow both in terms of stature and size.

In 1754, King's College (now Columbia University) opened. Since then, New York City has become an international learning center with its own City University (18 different colleges spread across the five boroughs), and more than a dozen other private institutions of higher learning – more than any other city in the world.

As the 13 colonies became the United States, New York City was the site of several heated battles and, despite victory at the Battle of Harlem Heights (near present-day Columbia University), the British repulsed the Continental Army and continually occupied the city until 1783.

With peace coming in 1783, New York City became capital of New York State and, the following year, capital of the United States of America. While here, Congress passed the Northwest Ordinance, the Constitution was ratified, and at Federal Hall National Memorial (at the corner of Wall & Nassau Streets), George Washington took the oath of office as first President of our new nation. It was also here that congress adopted the Bill of Rights. (Later, the building became a U.S. Subtreasury, and is today a national museum).

As Congress first met there, the new United States was deeply in debt. To help finance the nation, a group of stock and bond traders agreed to regularly meet to trade securities needed to eliminate the debt. They ultimately formed the New York Stock Exchange now located at Broad and Wall Streets (tours available daily).

NEW YORK CITY
1626 – 1976

New York's population grew, and the city expanded in area. In 1898, the independent city of Brooklyn (then fourth largest in the world) merged with the boroughs of Queens, The Bronx, and Staten Island (Richmond) to join Manhattan as New York City. With an eight million plus population, it is today America's largest city.

The ANA discovered New York City in 1910 when the first of several annual meetings was held here. Others included the 1922, 1939 and 1952 conventions, along with a wartime executive session conducted in 1945. At each successive gathering, the ANA had grown – and so had the Big Apple.

When the ANA last came to New York City in 1952, convention registration amounted to 440 people, and the bourse consisted of 24 dealers. The City that the conventioneers of 24 years ago saw has changed almost as much as the ANA convention, which this year has a bourse of 198 dealers and is anticipating a registration of more than 20,000 individuals.

Three buildings in New York were once considered the tallest in the world. Smallest of these is old Trinity Church, with a spire that once towered over the financial district. The renowned Empire State Building, where King Kong never really fought airplanes, still has observation platforms at the 86th and 102nd floors. Downtown, the new twin-tower 110 story World Trade Center also has a spectacular view of both New York harbor, the financial district, and the rest of town.

From New York harbor, a truly distinctive view is visible from the crown of the Statue of Liberty, the tall, lovely lady whose lamp of freedom has lighted the New York skyline since 1886. This was the first view of America that millions of immigrants had and, for the air traveller, it is likely to be among the first visible sights of a New York destination. Visits to the Statue, and the American Museum of Immigration, are just a subway stop and a boat-ride away for ANA conventioneers.

Subways form the bulk of transporation in New York City. There are more than 230 miles of track, and some 460 stations, spread out throughout the five boroughs; three stations are within a three block walk of the Americana Hotel. Cost for using the system is a 50 cent token, and changing of trains may be done at most stations without additional charge.

Supplementing the underground is an excellent fleet of cabs (the meter starts at 65 cents and advances 10 cents for each sixth of a mile), bus routes (one stopping across from the Americana, going downtown; the eastward Avenue of the Americas has the uptown version) which cost 50 cents exact change, an aerial tram to Roosevelt Island, or the least expensive means of all: by foot.

Located near the Hotel convention site are more than a dozen Broadway plays – all live theatre – hundreds of restaurants with every type of imaginable cuisine (from American to Vietnamese), and many of the night sports that are famous the world over.

New York, centered around Manhattan Island (just 12½ miles long and, at its greatest width, with a 2 mile girth), is indeed a summer festival. For ANA conventioneers, it is a rare opportunity to not only take advantage of the largest bourse ever, but also the largest city in America. Come to the Big Apple and "take a bite;" you won't be sorry you did.

85th ANNIVERSARY CONVENTION OFFICIAL BICENTENNIAL MEDAL

New York City's 85th Anniversary Medal for the 1976 convention of the American Numismatic Association is distinctive, attractive, and an unusual treat for all wearers.

Designated by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration as an official commemorative of the nation's 200th anniversary, the finished product is the work of two of the country's finest medallic sculptors who competed successfully in a national contest sponsored by the ANA for the honors of designing the convention medal.

Jack L. Ahr of Arlington Heights, Illinois, is the designer of the obverse of the medal. Featured is a bust of the Statue of Liberty, symbol of American freedom in New York harbor since its erection in 1886.

To the immediate right of Miss Liberty is the United Nations building. The world organization headquarters was established on New York City's East River shortly after its 1945 founding, and is a continuing reminder of man's search for peace. The ARBA official Bicentennial designation appears in the left field.

Designer of the reverse is Mico Kaufman, a resident of North Tewksbury, Massachusetts. Featured in the design is what the sculptor has termed a "vertiginous view of New York City buildings – perspective pattern of skyscrapers."

Symbolic of the buildings that have made the Big Apple famous the world over – three buildings in the city: old Trinity Church in lower Manhattan, the Empire State Building, and the twin tower 110 story World Trade Center, were once the tallest buildings in the world. The seal of the ANA is found in the lower right section of the medal.

JLA, the initials found on the obverse immediately below the date, are identical with those found on the brand new Bicentennial quarter with the drummer boy reverse. Jack Ahr won the honors to design that coin when his drummer boy was picked for top honors in the national Bicentennial coin design competition held in 1974. Since then, he has creatively engaged himself in the medallic field.

At the base of the skyscraper found in the lower right portion of the reverse, the sculptor has signed himself "Mico K," a signature that ought to be familiar to many ANA members. The sculptor, Mico Kaufman, did the rendering of the 1973 ANA Convention Medal at Boston, and more recently, designed the official inaugural medal for President Gerald R. Ford. He is a prolific artist whose works have been regularly produced for more than a decade.

In addition to the familiar silver and bronze renditions found in the official medal sets struck by AMI of Brookfield, Connecticut, a .900 fine gold medal will be struck this year as was done last year. A special 10 karat gold badge, the first struck in 22 years, will also be available to those collectors who avail themselves of the opportunity of ordering it before the end of the convention.

Friday, August 27, 1976 – 10:00 A. M. – ANA Young Numismatist Program Chairman Florence Schook will preside at the General Meeting of the YN's. All YN Committee members have been urged to be in attendance at this meeting and all adult advisors, ANA YN representatives and all those interested in the promotion of YN programs, are cordially invited to attend.

Friday, August 27, 1976 – 3:30 P.M. – Counterfeit Detection Seminar presided over by John Hunter. A short version of this famous travelling program of President Virgil Hancock will be a highlight of the convention. Microscopes, but of course! And, Hunter advises that perhaps our President of the ANA – Virgil Hancock – will be on hand to discuss this function with the YN's. How about that for a treat!

Saturday, August 28, 1976 – 11:30 A.M. – Another important highlight of all ANA conventions is the ANA official YN Awards Luncheon, co-sponsored by The Franklin Mint. One of the strongest supporters of the YN movement nationally, The Franklin Mint needs no introduction to the YN's. Addresses will be given by Franklin officials and ANA Awards presided over by ANA YN Program Chairman Florence Schook. A silver medal will be presented to all YN's in attendance. ($3.00)

Sunday, August 29, 1976 – Writing Seminar conducted by noted writers Ed Reiter and David L. Ganz. Panelists will include Neil Harris, Editor of The Numismatist; Paul Kelley, co-editor of The Young Numismatist, and Lorry Kiessling, President of the JNCCA and former editor of JNCCA's publicaton, The Inkspot.

In addition to the above, several other meetings will be held by other YN groups in conjunction with the regularly scheduled activities. General tours, programs and other features planned for all convention-goers are available to the Young Numismatists to do as they will. Consult bulletin boards and visit the Message Center for important announcements.

LADIES ACTIVITIES

The Ladies Activities room will be located in Albert Hall, in the exhibit area, and it will be adjacent to the Hospitality Room.

Do you plan a shopping trip, seeing a show in New York City or just sightseeing? We will have available for you, in the Ladies Activities Room, information you will need to know, i.e., what to see, how to get there and how much it will cost.

For your convenience, we will have menus from nearby restaurants posted, orientation by members of the New York City Convention and Visitors Bureau, demonstrations by Cosmeticians and the Kiwis, playing cards, bingo, a "Minor Repair Kit" for those emergency items needed, and on, and on and on . . . .

Make the Ladies Activities Room your meeting place to visit with friends and plan your day's activities. The room will be open from Tuesday, August 24 to Saturday, August 28, hours 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. The Ladies Activities Room will be closed all day Thursday, August 26 because of the Ladies Luncheon.

Terrace on the Park

LADIES LUNCHEON

Do not miss the Ladies Luncheon on Thursday, August 26, 1976, which will be held in "The Terrace on the Park" located on the site of the 1939-40 and 1964-65 World's Fairs in Flushing, N.Y.

You will be 19 stories high, viewing Flushing Meadow Park, Shea Stadium and the famous New York skyline.

Buses will pick you up at 10:30 A.M. at the Americana in time to have you at "The Terrace" for a 12:00 noon lunch. Enjoy the delicious Chicken Wellington luncheon. (If you prefer to have a fish plate, let Agnes (Aggie) Alones know by Wednesday, August 25, before noon, and we will have it prepared for you.

We hope you will come and visit with old friends, enjoy the food and relax. Door prizes, table favors and surprises are in store for you. We will assemble at 10:00 A.M. in the lobby in front of Albert Hall on the 52nd Street side of the Americana Hotel to board buses.

ANA EDUCATIONAL FORUM

Thursday, August 26 (8 P.M. in Royal A Ballroom)

Education of the collector is the most important function of the American Numismatic Association, which is the largest educational, non-profit organization of its type in the world.

Those attending the Educational Forum on Thursday, August 26 at 8 P.M. in Royal A Ballroom will have the opportunity to actively participate in their numismatic education on monies and tokens of North America in a distinctive Bicentennial tribute to American collecting.

Four distinguished speakers, a moderator, and organizer are responsible for the Educational Forum, and it certainly is one of the major highlights of the 85th Anniversary Bicentennial Convention in New York.

Organized by Harold Don Allen of Truro, Nova Scotia, the four principal speakers are Eric P. Newman, an expert on American colonial numismatics; Raphael E. Solomon, author of a standard reference work on America's foreign coinage; Sheldon S. Carroll, curator of the Canadian national coin collection, and Henry G. Spangenberger, long-time collector of Centennial Americana items.

EDWARD JANIS, Moderator

President of the host New York Numismatic Club, and former or current chief officer of five New York coin clubs, Janis is a real estate consultant who has been an active collector for many years. A member of TAMS, and treasurer of AINA, he holds 10 educational award certificates from the ANA and was a speaker at the 1974 Educational Forum at Miami's 83rd Anniversary Convention.

HAROLD DON ALLEN, Organizer

Life Member 326 of the ANA, Don Allen was asked by President Hancock to organize this year's forum. A professor at Nova Scotia's Teachers College, he is author of numerous articles on all phases of numismatics, and is an active educational forum speaker. Actively involved in some 21 consecutive national coin weeks, he is ANA district representative for Canada.

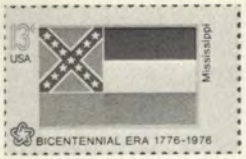
United States Colonial Material of the 1776 Era.

Author of numerous books, monographs and articles on monies of the American colonial period, winner of 10 Heath Literary Awards for articles published in The Numismatist, editor of two major works on American coin and currency of the Revolutionary period, and former speaker at ANA educational forums, Eric P. Newman has been an ANA member for nearly 42 years (R-4624).

Permanent chairman of the 1967 Annual Assay Commission, member and chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission advisory panel on coins and medals, winner of the ANA medal of merit in 1964, and the coveted Farran Zerbe award in 1969, Newman is a St. Louis attorney who has been a student of numismatics for half a century. His expertise on colonial monies is unchallenged, his knowledge unparalleled, and his forum talk promises to be of keen interest.



SHELDON S. CARROLL

British North American issues of the Bicentennial Era.

Curator of the Canadian national collection at Ottawa, founding president of the Canadian Numismatic Association in 1950, member of the ANA for more than 30 years (R-12319, now a life member), and past educational forum speaker, Major Carroll is a fellow of the Royal Numismatic Society and the American Numismatic Society and a member of many Canadian and international organizations of collectors.

Winner of the ANA Medal of Merit in 1971, he is an expert of all facets of Canadian numismatics, and is expected to give truly international flavor to the educational forum's celebration of 200 years of American numismatics with his talk on British North American issues of the Revolutionary period.

RAPHAEL E. SOLOMON

Foreign coinage circulating in the Colonial United States

Co-author of America's Foreign Coins, a classic published by the Coin & Currency Institute in 1964 that discusses foreign coins with legal tender status in the United States between 1793 and 1857, Raphael E. Solomon is a dedicated researcher and collector who has been an ANA member for 24 years (R-20138).

An associate member of the American Numismatic Society since 1952, "Ralph" Solomon is utilizing this educational forum to expand upon the material written a dozen years ago, having done a great deal of original research in the interim. A private investor who lives in New York City, his talk on foreign specie coinage circulating at the time of the American Revolution promises to be a highlight of the Bicentennial educational forum.

HENRY G. SPANGENBERGER

Numismatics and the 1876 Centennial

Collecting Centennial memorabilia for a dozen years, winner of the Numismatic Literary Guild's "Best Writer" award for his popular "Numisma-Lore" column in Numismatic Scrapbook, and an 18 year member of the ANA (Life Member 676), Hank Spangenberger is probably America's most knowledgeable numismatist on the coins, tokens, medals, and other pieces of antiquarian memorabilia from the 1876 Centennial.

Recognition of this fact came when the Bicentennial Commission's coins and medals advisory panel first met in 1970, and Spangenberger was invited to make a presentation to them on the commemorative steps taken a century earlier. In expanded form, this will be the substance of his talk to the educational forum. Later this year, it will form part of the book that the ANA is publishing under auspices of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

The American Numismatic Society, the second oldest group of its kind in the United States, was founded at New York in 1858, and today has its headquarters, museum, and library at Audubon Terrace, 155th Street at Broadway, in upper Manhattan.

Functions of the society include development of its coin, medal, token and currency cabinet, maintenance of the largest museum and library devoted to numismatic items in the world and the sponsoring of scholarly publications and related functions on an international basis.

For the Bicentennial year, a special exhibition on "Monies in Early America, 1607 to 1796," will be on display in a special wing of the Society's museum. In the other exhibition hall, the popular "History of Medallic Art" display continues to be available for study by all visitors.

Members of the ANA, their families, and guests are cordially invited by the staff of the American Numismatic Society to visit the headquarters, which are readily accessible by subway from the hotel convention site. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 4:40 p.m., and Sunday 1 to 4 p.m. To get there: Take the IRT subway uptown to 157th Street from the 50th Street & Broadway station, and walk to Audubon Terrace (about 20 minutes) or take a number 4 bus up Madison Ave. to 155th Street (about one hour).

HISTORY OF THE LONG ISLAND COIN CLUB

The idea of a coin club for Long Island was born during the ANA convention held in New York City in 1952. Four men met in October of that year to draft plans for a club. The organizational meeting was held in November, and the first meeting with thirteen charter members was held on February 27, 1953. The Long Island Coin Club is presently the oldest club on Long Island.

Four charter members are still active in the club. We joined the ANA the same year as a member club, No. 21370, and we incorporated in 1964. Mineola was the site of our first meetings, and after two years with an increasing membership we moved to larger quarters in Floral Park.

There are 14 active members with 20 or more years membership in the club. Four of our members have been honored with an appointment to the United States Assay Commission, and seven have been appointed as Numismatic Ambassadors.

The Long Island Coin Club sponsors the Grand Central Coin Convention the first weekend in November and has done so annually for the past 12 years. The Harold Schornstein Memorial Award is given each year for service to the club and is presented at the banquet during the convention. Our first art medal was struck to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the convention. Many of our members have won many awards, and best in shows for exhibits at numerous conventions, including the ANA.

SPECIAL CONVENTION POSTMARK

With the growth of Philatelic-Numismatic Combinations (PNCs) in recent years, it has become a custom of the annual ANA convention to apply to the U.S. Postal Service for an on-site facility that can be used to purchase stamps, and to mail letters. A cancellation from the post office drawing boards has been used in years past.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION 85th Anniversary

This year, a unique and distinctive cancellation will be used, courtesy of Mort Reed, a member of the board of governors who is also the very talented artist whose "Coinology" series has appeared each week in Coin World for many years. Reed's drawing depicts the seal of the ANA in addition to the conventional ANA Station-New York City 10019 that would be required by postal regulation. The organizational name and the 85th Anniversary logo appears between the seal and the necessary cancellation device.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING SOUVENIR CARD

Continuing a tradition that was established at the 1969 ANA convention at Philadelphia, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will issue a special souvenir card for the 85th Anniversary Convention, featuring the modified reverse of the 1896 $2.00 silver certificate. The cards are available for purchase (limit five per person) at the Bureau's Albert Hall Exhibit, and by mail.

ABOUT THE ORIGIN OF OUR OFFICIAL EMBLEM

One side showed a lamp on a book of ancient history, with the motto "De Profundis," meaning "out of the greatest depths." A note of explanation stated that the volume of ancient history under the numismatic student's lamp meant the science takes place as a truthful historical record and is above written history. The rays of light thrown out by the flame signify the light thrown on ancient history by the science of numismatics.

The reverse side of the seal bore the head of Pheidon, King of Agros, under whose reign coins were first used.

The obverse of this crude seal was used periodically until it was redesigned in 1906 by Howland Wood, ANA secretary. This seal, shown on this page, has remained the same since that time and has been used extensively. It was not until 1929, however, that the seal with only minor changes, became the official emblem of the Association.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Martin F. Kortjohn

Martin F. Kortjohn, ANA Life Member 51, was general chairman of the last ANA convention to come to New York City in 1952.

Joining the association as regular member 3978 on June 15, 1931, one of his sponsors was Moritz Wormser, a former president of the ANA. Within seven years, Kortjohn was elected to the Board of Governors, then to the vice presidency and finally, in 1943, achieved the ultimate accolade when he was elected to the presidency without opposition.

Re-elected to a second term the following year (for in those days, the tenure was just one year), he lists among his accomplishments as president a 25 per cent increase in membership in the ANA.

Following this ANA presidency, Kortjohn wrote extensively, including numerous articles in The Numismatist, monthly journal of the association, and zealously defended the rights of collectors to have commemorative coin issues.

Far from calling a halt to his involvement in collecting after the ANA presidency, Kortjohn became vigorously active in the numismatic societies of the New York Metropolitan area. He became president of the Bronx Coin Club, was president of the New York Coin Club from 1952-53, and joined the American Numismatic Society, of which he became a fellow in 1963.

A certified public accountant by profession, Kortjohn's skillful leadership in the ANA, and at the 61st Anniversary Convention at New York in 1952, is an important part of the association's history, something that all collectors still benefit from today.

Dr. Ronald Lee Gaudreau

Dr. Gaudreau is currently the Executive Vice President of the New York City Bicentennial Corporation. The Corporation is the official agency responsible for New York City's participation in the commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the events leading up to and following the Declaration of Independence. He is host of FOCUS 76, a weekly radio program devoted to discussions of Bicentennial plans by representatives of cultural, civic and community organizations.

Prior to assuming his responsibilities with the Bicentennial Corporation, he was Executive Officer of the City University Construction Fund, a multi-million dollar, quasi-governmental agency responsible for the expansion of the City University of New York. He also served as consultant and staff writer for the New York State Regents Advisory Council's "A Regional Plan for Higher Education: A Report from New York City."

Dr. Gaudreau, an ex-Marine Corps Sergeant, was awarded his Ph.D. in Sociology/Administration from Syracuse University in 1970. He is a graduate of Harvard University Institute for Management and Cornell University's program in Higher Education Planning.

Dr. Gaudreau is active in many charitable and fund raising activities.
